

Call for Applications: PhD scholarships

The Hertie School offers eight scholarships to outstanding master's students interested in pursuing a PhD in the Doctoral Programme in Governance.

Deadline for applications: 31 January 2023

Who we are looking for Interested candidates with an exceptionally strong master's degree (or equivalent) in economics, law, political science, sociology, public administration, management, or related fields. The master's degree should be completed before entering the programme. We especially encourage women and international candidates to apply.

What we offer

- Undertake doctoral research in the social sciences in an international and multidisciplinary setting
- Work with distinguished scholars
- Receive rigorous academic training, close supervision and institutional support
- Develop professional skills for your academic or non-academic career
- Join a vibrant research hub in the heart of Berlin and cooperate with leading doctoral programmes in Europe

Learn more about doing your PhD at the Hertie School and how to apply at hertie-school.org/phd

