Dear colleagues interested in ocean and polar politics and our thematic group, after a too long summer break, this mail starts with two rather urgent calls (and apologies for the later distribution: 1-2), two other conference calls, among them the congress of our own organizational host, DVPW (3+4), two special issue calls warrant attention as group topics are related (5+6), followed by three open job advertisements related to our group's focus (7-9). There are some more dates for the diaries, conferences and events (10-13), and the alert to a new working group which might be interesting to some of you (14). We round off with two publications, one from our midst (15-16) and our usual call to send us anything interesting for the members of this group - this time for the next mail planned for end of October/beginning November - and final words (17).

We would also like to alert you to a soon upcoming call for our thematic group meeting, planned for mid-February next year! Please already consider a possible contribution!

1. Call for papers, "Making Sustainability Happen: Global Politics Meets Planetary Boundaries", DVPW-Thementagung, Deadline for Submissions, 30.09.23

The conference takes place, 10–12 April 2024, Akademie für Politische Bildung, Tutzing, co-organised by the DVPW section 'Internationale Beziehungen', the DVPW working group 'Internationale Politische Ökonomie' and the DVPW working group 'Umweltpolitik/Global Change' in cooperation with Akademie für Politische Bildung, Tutzing. Please submit your abstract of no more than 250 words to <g.mennillo@apb-tutzing.de>. More information here: <<https://www.dvpw.de/veranstaltungen/thementagungen/thementagung-2024>>. Call is also attached!

2. Call for papers, KDM Strategy Group Social Science & Humanities autumn meeting, Deadline for Submissions, 01.10.2023

The meeting takes place 29-30 November, 2023 at the Helmholtz-Zentrum HEREON, Max-Planck Str. 1, 21502 Geesthacht. The overall topic of the meeting is: "The eco-industrial transformation of the Sea – New social and cultural science research perspectives for marine space." The call is attached. Send your abstract (title, 200 words max.+ contact corresponding author in one pdf-file) to <annegret.kuhn@ceos.uni-kiel.de> and <tanja.bogusz@uni-hamburg.de>. Please note that that the conference language is English.

3. Call for papers "Marine panel" at inaugural conference of German STS association stsing e.V., Deadline for submission 15.10.2023

The panel's theme is: "(Un)leaking marine and coastal ecosystems". The conference takes place: March 19-22, 2024 at TU Dresden. Contributions in the form of talks and discussions are welcomed. Please submit your abstract or proposal (max. 200 words) plus short bio notes (150 words) related to your activities in the marine-STS field. Accepted contributions will be notified until the 20th of October 2023. Abstracts to <tanja.bogusz@uni-hamburg.de> and <nane.pelke@uni-hamburg.de>. Further information here: <<https://sts-leakage.org>>. Call is also attached!

4. Call for Papers, DVPW-Kongress, Göttingen 24-27.09.2024, Deadlines for submission, 31.10.2023

The call is for papers submitted to open panels and for closed panels. There are 99 (!!!) open panels, many of which would accommodate papers with topics from our group. We should be present with papers to demonstrate the value of your topics for political science! Thus, please consider submissions!!! Call and submissions here: <<https://www.dvpw.de/dvpw2024/call-for-papers/abstracts>>.

5. Call for Contributions, Special Issue of "Frontiers in Political Science", deadline for submitting abstracts 31.10.2023

This special issue is on: "(De)Politicizing Climate and Environmental Politics in Times of Crises: Contexts, Strategies and Effects?". We are sure that our themes, the oceans and polar areas can contribute valuable cases here! The call and more information is available here:
